

What is going on in the mosquito song?

Mosquito (Komar) is a song wherein we complain about our favorite state bird: the Mosquito. We talk about how we can't stand the pain, since a giant mosquito stepped on our foot. We then declare that we're going to kill it with an axe, cut off it's head, and display it for all to see. It sometimes makes us wonder what kind of giant mosquitos they have in Russia.