

Song Clips are Back!

I have gotten sound clips back into our site! I have roughly 10 full length songs in mp3 format posted for you to download. Click on Songs, select the song you're interested in, and click the link provided, if there is one.

More songs will likely be forthcoming, likely in 30 second samples. I will be working out with Doc what songs we want to provide people to listen. There is a possibility that we will enable more songs in full length, if we institute a streaming media server.

Keep in mind, at full length, these files are between 3 and 5 megabytes large; if you are on a slow connection, downloading could take a while.

Please continue to check back for updates.
